NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

The Presbyterian Sunday School has a new superintendent, D. C. Carmichael, one of the faithful members of the church, having succeeded O. R. Morgan.

Mr. Carmichael assumed charge of his new duties at the Sunday School hour yesterday and in a few well chosen words told of the progress he believes the Sunday School will make, and of the many helpful things that may be accomplished.

Upon motion of W. C. Fritter, the Sunday School gave a rising vote of thanks to O. R. Morgan, the retiring superintendent, who has accomplished a great deal of work as head of the Presbyterian Sunday School in this city. Other officers elected are T. W. Harris, assistant superintendent and Felix Walker, secretary.

AMATEUR THEATRICALS

"Some of the women are going in for amateur theatricals," announced Mrs. Jamesworthy, "and Mrs. Spendthrift asked me this afternoon if I wouldn't like to take part in them."

"That's just about what I would expect from the married women of this degenerate class," grumbled Jamesworthy. "They never seem to have anything useful to do. They find life such a bore, by reason of their lack of legitimate employment, that they perform on the trapeze at the gymnasium and do all kinds of idiotic stunts."

"I never have interfered with your freedom of action, Mrs. Jamesworthy, but herewith serve due notice, in the county and state aforesaid, that I won't stand for any Ellen Terry or Mary Anderson faustness from you. As soon as you have convinced yourself that it is your duty to elevate the stage, you can pack up your doll clothes and depart from this hospitable roof. I am patient and long suffering, but if a wife of mine appears on the stage as the seven Sutherland Sisters, in the great moral drama, 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' I shall feel that we have come to the parting of the ways."

"Junkerman was telling me this morning that his wife is causing him great travail of spirit. She is accumulating flesh at a rapid rate, and it is worrying her as such a catastrophe worries all women. When first she discovered that she was increasing day by day, she asked him what he thought she'd better do, and he told her to discharge the hired girl and do the housework herself. That would soon restore her to her original willowy shape and make her life one grand, sweet song. 'Do this, my beloved Sophronia,' he said, 'and you may have the $5 a week we are paying the hired handmaiden.'"

"Could anything be more fair, or more generous, Mrs. Jamesworthy? But it is useless to be just or generous to the modern wife. It is casting swills before the pine. Mrs. Junkerman looked at her husband in a severe tone of voice, as Mrs. Queen of Scots looked at the executioner.

OFFICERS GET LARGE HAUL

Four cases of whiskey in an automobile were seized by Sheriff May between Alaga and Adilla late Saturday afternoon. The automobile containing the liquor was in charge of Colton Fuller, a well known young man of this city.

Deputies Talmadge May and Ross Hornby went to the home of G. R. Thompson, in the eastern part of town, where they say they found eight quarts or more of liquor. They also discovered a trunk containing twelve books and certain Masonic paraphernalia, said to have been taken from the Masonic hall here some time ago.

No arrests have been made.

EIGHT FELONIES

The Geneva county grand jury had a busy time last week, some 55 true bills having been returned. Out of this number 8 were for felonies. Judge Pearce and Solicitor Hill were here Saturday night and Sunday.

executives, and said she'd rather smother in her own grease than be a pot wrestler, or words to that effect. Which remark illustrates the attitude of the present day wives toward housework. They should take an honest pride in it, as my sainted mother did. They feel insulted if their husbands hint that they should roll up their sleeves and moisten their hands and get busy in the kitchen.

"Mrs. Junkerman said she wanted a safety bicycle, and she kept hammering on that theme until he bought her one in self defense. Some fool physician had told her that she could make herself scathe again by riding 20 miles a day on a bicycle. So she got an idiotic costume that made her look like a cross between a British suffragette and a queen of the equatorial islands, and began pushing her bicycle over the country roads. She'd ride about a hundred yards and then fall off, and the farmers' dogs had great sport chasing her, and everybody within ten miles was talking about the spectacle she was making of herself. She would have considered it humiliating to be seen hanging out a week's washing on the clothesline, but she didn't see anything wrong in giving such a circus performance on the public roads every day."

"She soon got tired of the bicycle, and then her suffering husband bought her a saddle horse, and it dumped her off and kicked her into the creek, and then she tried pedestrianism and then physical culture, and then Graeco-Roman wrestling and just now she's worrying Junkerman to engage a sparring partner for her. Junkerman may stand for such conduct, Mrs. Jamesworthy, but I won't, and I don't want you to make up your mind that you are Edwin Booth in disguise, or that you should be playing the title role in 'The Two Orphans.'"

REVENUE BOARD MEETS TUESDAY

The county board of revenue will meet tomorrow morning with the road apportioners and overseers from the various parts of the county for the purpose of outlining a system for the upkeep of tributary roads in the county.

It is understood that the commissioners have agreed that the main roads or "trunk" lines will be kept up by the county, this work being out of the hands of overseers and apportioners. However, the overseers and apportioners will be expected to see that the tributary or community roads are kept in good order as they connect with the main roads.

Hon. John B. Ward and members of his family came to Dothan today on a shopping trip. Mr. Ward said that cotton seed were selling at Abbeville for $40 a ton.

Friends of Miss Edie Barfield head nurse at Moody's Infirmary, will be pained to learn of the death of her mother, who died Saturday afternoon at Meridian, Miss. Miss Barfield left at once to attend the funeral.

MR. LIGENBY VERY ILL

Friends of City Clerk R. W. Ligenby will regret that he is not doing as well as usual. Sunday he became very weak and so serious was his condition that he could not receive company. Up to this time he had been recovering satisfactorily from injuries he received by falling down an elevator shaft at the city hall building some time ago.

FRENCH ADMIRAL IS RELIEVED OF COMMAND

Paris, Oct. 10.—Admiral Augustin Boue de Lapeyriere, commander of the Anglo-French fleet in the Mediterranean, has been relieved of his command at his own request, owing to serious illness. Vice Admiral D'Arville du Fournet will succeed him.

PANAMA CANAL CLOSED TILL FIRST OF NOVEMBER

Washington, Oct. 10.—The war department issued formal announcement today that there are no definite prospects of opening the Panama Canal before November 1, because of the earth slides at Gold Hill. Ships waiting at the isthmus to go through the canal will be permitted to transfer freight across the isthmus by rail at $3 per ton, including all charges, and tolls not yet turned into the general fund will be returned, if ships desire to turn back.

BOSTON WINS

Boston defeated Philadelphia in the World's Championship series today the score being 2 to 1. Alexander pitched for Philadelphia and Leonard for Boston.

MAN ARRESTED; PURSUED WILSON

Washington, Oct. 10.—President Wilson and Mrs. Norman Galt, his fiancée, motored to Baltimore today to visit the president's brother, Joseph R. Wilson, who had not met the next mistress of the white house. While they were there they attended church and were guests at a family luncheon party. Several hundred persons in Baltimore learned of the presence of the couple and crowded about the church and the apartment house in which Joseph R. Wilson lives to catch a glimpse of the president and his bride to be.

Mrs. Galt wore a blue tulle gown, a black velvet hat trimmed with fur, champagne-colored gloves and a short face veil. On the third finger of her left hand she wore the diamond engagement ring given her by the president in New York. It had been reported that the platinum ring was set with a solitary diamond, but today it was noticed that it also had several small diamonds in the narrow gold band.

Arrested for Following Couple.

Efforts of a man giving his name as Joseph Prutik, of Brussels, Belgium, to follow the president's party and enter the church, caused a ripple of excitement. The man said he was collecting money for the suffering Belgians, and that he was visiting in Baltimore. The police became suspicious, however, and prevented him from entering the church. He protested that he meant no harm, and merely wanted to see the distinguished visitors.

The president and Mrs. Galt decided last night, after their return from Philadelphia, to make the trip today. The Joseph Wilsons plan to go to Tennessee later this month and they wanted to meet Mrs. Galt before leaving. After an early breakfast the president called for Mrs. Galt at her home at 9 o'clock. They were accompanied by the Misses Lucy and Mary Smith, of New Orleans, cousins of the president.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and their daughters were waiting at their apartments and after a short stay there the entire party walked several blocks to the Franklin street Presbyterian church, where they occupied the pastor's pew, under the observing eyes of an interested congregation. The president and Mrs. Galt entered into the entire service, using the same hymn book.

TOWED INTO SAVANNAH.

Savannah, Ga., Oct. 10.—The British steamer Rio Palaceros, Matanzas to New York, with a cargo of sugar was towed into the harbor here today for repairs. The Rio Palaceros developed boiler trouble Friday night while off the mouth of the Savannah River, and several tug boats to her assistance. Captain Nankin said he would wait here for orders from the vessel's owners.

GERMANS BREAK RUSSIAN LINE

Berlin, Oct. 10.—(By Wireless to Sayville.)—Field Marshal von Hindenburg's efforts to capture Drinsk has made no further progress. The war office today announced the capture of Russian positions over a front of nearly five miles north of the railroad running west from Drinsk.

A violent Russian attack west of the city in an endeavor to regain positions lost when the Germans last week made a gap of three miles in the Russian line was repulsed.

An official statement says: "After a violent hand to hand fight Field Marshal von Hindenburg's army repulsed Russian forces which attempted to reconquer their lost positions near Charonovka, west of Pinsk. North of the railroad from Drinsk to Poniwesch, to the west of Hlukat, the Germans captured the enemy's positions over a front of nearly five miles. Six officers, 730 prisoners and five machine guns were captured."

"General von Linkingen's army took by storm the village of Sinezye, southwest of Pinsk. Cavalry engagements continue near Kuchechawla and in the neighborhood of Glevoroy. Several Russian attacks on the front between Rafalovki, 20 miles south of Pinsk, and the railroad running from Rovno to Kovel were repulsed and 383 Russians were made prisoners."

"General von Bothmer's army repulsed strong Russian attacks northwest of Tarnopol."

BITTER FEELING SHOWN BY BRITISH SOLDIERS

London, Oct. 10.—A party of munition workers who visited the British armies in Flanders accompanied by the parliamentary under-secretary for home affairs, William Brazer, say in their report:

"There is bitter and widespread resentment among the officers and men at the front at the constant appearance of articles disparaging the efforts this country is making. The men are sickened at the persistent depreciation of what they are doing out there and what the civil population is doing at home to carry on the war."

Concerning munitions the conclusions are thus summed up:

"The supply of shells must not be merely liberal, but unlimited. As regards the German position in this respect, we were repeatedly told, and could also see for ourselves, that their expenditure of shells was out of all proportion to ours. Their supplies must be enormous."

SIG RAIL CONTRACTS LET BY THE B. & O.

Baltimore, Oct. 10.—Contracts have been let by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad for 62,500 tons of rails for immediate delivery. Most of the rails will be used for replacement in the main line. They are of heavy type, weighing 100 pounds to the yard.

LAST DAY TO FILE 'PAPERS'

The sheriff's office expects that Monday will be a big day in that department as this is the last return day for summonses and complaints. Such papers can not be filed after today with the knowledge that they will be attended to at the approaching term of the court. Consequently many persons will likely call at the office during the day to file such papers.

The Fall term of the Circuit Court starts here on November 1, and quite an interesting number of cases will be up for trial. Judge Pearce will preside over the court and Ernest H. Hill, the new solicitor, will appear as prosecuting attorney.

BOLL WEEVIL DAY FOR RURAL SCHOOLS

The Commissioner of Agriculture and the Superintendent of Education, in conference with Prof. J. B. Hobdy and J. L. Sibily, Rural School Supervisors, realizing the immediate importance of disseminating knowledge of the boll weevil and best methods of farming under boll weevil conditions, have declared Friday, November 5th, as Boll Weevil Day in the rural schools of Alabama.

The boll weevil is now one of the most vital agricultural and educational problems confronting rural and business life in the state. Three-fourths of the cotton grown in Alabama next year will be grown in the face of the weevil.

Let us hope that every teacher in the rural schools and as many as may desire to do so in the city schools, will devote the afternoon of Friday, November 5th to the study and teaching of the life of the boll weevil. The teacher should equip himself with the best available literature on the subject, and in the infested areas, should secure a few weevils and infested squares for practical illustration and place them in a clear fruit jar. These will live and others will hatch in about two weeks, giving you time to study them. Do not carry or mail weevils or infested squares into uninfested territory.

The children in the rural school districts will be an important factor in the fight against boll weevils next spring. It is of vital importance that they be instructed and prepared for the emergency.

If the teachers all over the State will observe this proclamation by inviting the patrons and devote three hours to the study and teaching about the boll weevil, it may be worth millions of dollars to Alabama in the next few years.

Inquiries for information regarding the boll weevil should be addressed to Dr. W. E. Miles, Auburn, Ala.

THE LAST TIE.

He was no more ragged, dirty or unkempt than the dozens of other wanderers who come to any newspaper office every day to beg an old paper. He was outwardly just another of the shifting floating type of wanderers who frequent the summer towns, on the way to and from the construction camps. But a handful of city dandies did not dismiss him.

"I wonder if you get the paper from Kuskiboro, Ill. here," he asked. Then in a half explanatory half apologetic way he said, "You see, I used to live there."

Someone went through a pile of exchanges and found the paper he sought, the Kuskiboro Star, just an ordinary patent medicine, boiler plate outside, dark country weekly full of bad type and badly written news. The visitor's thumbs were more profuse for his paper than for all the others, and he went out.

That little country paper was the last tie that held a wanderer casual laborer to a place he once called home. Relatives and friends who once lived there had gone, or disowned him as worthless and a failure. But the old weekly with its neighborhood gossip of marriages, deaths, births, crops and sickness brought him back again to memory of the old home town. Some day the little weekly may draw him home to live with a new start and the days of his wandering will be past.—Empire Gazette

THE PSYCHOLOGY OF KISSING.

Supreme Court Justice Sutherland of New York gasped in astonishment last Wednesday when he heard the sworn statement of Warren A. Brown, a prominent Long Island real estate dealer, that he had never in all of his life kissed or hugged a woman.

The court officials held their breath.

"Never kissed a woman in all my life," asked Justice Sutherland doubtfully.

"With the exception of my mother, no, your honor."

Here is a record. It is needless to say that this kissless man is the defendant in a suit brought by a college professor for the alienation of his wife's affections.

The psychologists for all or ten trumpeting, seem to be paying little attention to the really important problems of human life. Then disputations upon the mechanism of perception, the incidents of cognition and the subconsciousness of attention are copious and instructive, but so far they have failed to tell us why men disfigure their faces with beads; why no one expects intelligence in a baseball fan or why it is that kissing a pretty girl is so diabolically pleasant.

They might begin with the New York defendant and ascertain why he has, for so many years never indulged in this oscillatory possibility.

It might be urged that kissing on the purely physical side is plainly not an agreeable experience. Its chief sensation is one of asphyxiation and asphyxiation no matter what the stage setting may be, is inevitably painful.

One may often observe proof of it on the stage in the soul kiss, which lasts usually as long as the cadenza of a violin concerto, or about 20 measures in common time.

Kissing in private is not quite so forbidding for no one, not even the girl herself, can be the amateur to show the finished virtuosity of the professional. After 10 or 12 seconds of continuous contact he is permitted to withdraw his lips to a safe distance and resume the interrupted business of conversation. But even this courteous hiatus is not sufficient to eliminate entirely the discomfort of excessive contact. After four or five hours of kissing even the amateur has lost more breath than the professional whose efforts while more intense are less protracted.

No man can accommodate his lungs without damage, and a small, tight collar, a high collar in the throat, a bad fit of a shirt or a sharp blow over the Adam's apple are just as destructive as kissing.

And yet people will kiss not only to get a point to get a chance. Why do they do it? It may be that the New York defendant would no doubt like to know.

Why do men risk life and limb to kiss some other man's wife who in the light of dispassionate examination may prove to be fat and fraudulent? Why do they spend hours kissing some silly ingenue or sinister widow? Why do they put their heads in the front rank of stimulants with all of their political and auto speeding?

The problem is indeed one of diabolical perplexity. The act, keeping considered physically, is no more alluring than the act of a man kissing a woman.

At its best it interferes unobtrusively with the normal psychological procedure. At its worst it produces mental distress. The answer to the problem must be sought on the psychological side. Kissing influences the action and reaction of the mind. It affects the nerves but to the real source of the mind's activity, it will have to take the same kind of behavior that Brown made advertisement.

BOYS FARM CLUBS.

The success of boys' farm clubs and pig clubs in the South has led to the extension of the extension of the farm club movement.

The extension of the farm club movement is the result of the success of the farm club movement in the South. The success of the farm club movement in the South is the result of the success of the farm club movement in the South.

Without some system of farm club members of the corn clubs who have organized their own corn clubs and pig clubs in the South.

They might begin with the New York defendant and ascertain why he has, for so many years never indulged in this oscillatory possibility.

It might be urged that kissing on the purely physical side is plainly not an agreeable experience. Its chief sensation is one of asphyxiation and asphyxiation no matter what the stage setting may be, is inevitably painful.

After a year of this work, it should be made to that the corn is good. The boy will then know much more about corn production and farming and will then when he first entered the club. At the end of the third year most of the club members probably will be compelled for one reason or another to leave the club. It is recommended that certificates signed by the highest authorities of the college and state should be given to every boy after three years work of the character outlined.

Temperance

EFFECTS OF BEER DRINKING.

The political strength of liquor is furnished by the wine and beer drinkers. Whisky interests may be better organized than the brewers and interfere actively in politics, but the voters which make possible the sale of intoxicants are not furnished by whisky drinkers, who do not always vote as they drink. The beer drinker generally will vote to protect his habit, because he is far from convinced of its malignancy.—From Editorial in Chicago Tribune.

And that is why the W. C. T. U. and other temperance organizations are bringing to the masses the truth about beer and its malignant effects upon the human organism. Concerning these effects the Life Extension Institute says in a published statement: "One-half of one quart of beer is sufficient to distinctly impair memory, lower intellectual power and retard simple mental processes, such as the addition of simple figures. This narcotic or deadening influence is first exerted on the higher reasoning powers that control conduct, so that the lower activities of the mind and nervous system are for a time released. The everyday, well-poised, self-controlled man goes to sleep, as it were, and the primitive man temporarily wakes up. Eventually, the nervous system is paralyzed, and the drinker becomes sleepy. Muscular efficiency is at first increased a little, and then lowered, the total effect being a loss of working power."

A CORRECTION.

Newspapers and magazines are continually publishing erroneous statements with regard to the number of dry states. A leading weekly periodical publishes a prohibition map showing 17 Iowa is omitted. A writer in one of the June magazines gives the number as 16, Iowa and Idaho both being counted among the wet. Up to September 21, 1914, there were nine prohibition states. Since that time nine more have been added. The 18 prohibition states, in the order of their going dry, are:

Maine	1851
Kansas	1860
North Dakota	1889
Georgia	1897
Oklahoma	1907
North Carolina	1903
Mississippi	1908
Tennessee	1903
West Virginia	1912
Virginia	1914
Colorado	1914
Oregon	1911
Washington	1914

CUTS PROFITS OF EMPLOYER

Practice of "Sabotage," as Employed by Dissatisfied Workmen, Said to Have Begun in England.

Sabotage, a method of "direct action" advocated by syndicalists and by the Industrial Workers of the World in this country, means, briefly, doing one's work with intentional incompetency. Although the word is of French origin, and the system owes its adoption as an organized method to the action of French laborers, sabotage is said to have been first practiced by English workmen, who called it "cut canny," a Scotch phrase meaning "Go slow." It has been described as "striking without leaving the pay roll;" the workman who practices sabotage simply turns out bad work, continues to annoy his employer and decrease the value of his employer's output, without actually "going on strike." There are many different kinds of sabotage, from the "open-mouth strike," in which the employee takes pains to inform the public of any adulteration, weakness or dishonesty in his employer's methods, to the actual wrecking of the machinery, which may result in injury and loss of life; of course there are ways of being careless in every industry. Several suggestions have been made as to the origin of the word, which is obviously derived from the French "sabot," but it probably means to go clumsily "as one wearing wooden shoes." The accent is slightly on the first and last syllables, but is nearly even: The first "a" is pronounced as in "at," "o" as in "go," and the second "a" is broad; "p" has the soft French sound of "ph." It is interesting to note that the socialist party has gone on record as opposed to sabotage, along with other forms of violence.

YALE IS "Y'S"

"COON" ADOPTED KITTENS.

A large raccoon, mistaking an open door at the home of William Clayton of Murphy, N. C., for an invitation to walk in and make himself at home, went on an exploring expedition and found a basket of kittens which it adopted, after chasing the mother cat away.

When Clayton returned home he hunted for the kittens, and in feeding under the bed he felt a sharp stinging sensation. Investigation revealed the raccoon, with the strange brood at its side. Clayton declares the animal can stay as long as it behaves and exerts no evil influence over the kittens.

RARE EXPERIENCE.

"I would like to pay a bill," said the caller.

The doctor looked at him curiously for a moment. "Are you quite sure about that?" he asked.

"Why, of course. Here's the money."

"Thanks. I'll write a receipt for you. Pardon my question. You are the first person who ever told me that he would like to pay a bill."

THE DETHORING OF CATTLE

Not a Dangerous Operation if Proper Precautions Are Taken.

By R. S. Parker, Demonstration Agent, Chambers County.

Prepared by Extension Service, Auburn, Ala.

The dethorning of cattle is a practice which rapidly grows in favor wherever introduced, and there is every reason for putting it out of their power to turn their horns against their owners and against each other.

A good job can be done with an ordinary hand saw. It is very slow, however, compared to the shears, greatly prolonging the pain of the animal. In using the saw, the animal must be rigidly secured, which increases the danger of injury from its struggles, especially with cows heavy with calf.

There are several types of dethorning shears on the market. The best has two V-shaped knives, which sever the horn by sliding past each other, cutting on four sides at once. In dethorning something over a thousand cattle of all ages with an instrument of this type, I have never yet crushed a horn.

Some cattle, however, have an intricate system of slender branches of bone extending in all directions across the hollow core of the horn. Sometimes one of these little braces is splintered and left loose or slightly attached. If these loose splinters are pulled off before the wound is closed, no bad results will follow.

After the horn is removed, a small patch of clean cotton flannel is stuck over the wound, with the nap side in. Clean pine tar is then smeared over the cloth and on the hair around the wound, and if possible some of the long hair on the top of the head is drawn over the cloth and stuck there with the tar. This makes the cloth stay on better. Some of the animals will knock the dressing off. This should be caught again as soon as the bleeding stops, and the dressing renewed. Scrub the base of the horn with an antiseptic solution before the operation. In most cases the wound will heal perfectly in a short time, a cattle are less susceptible to the poisonous germs than most animals.

If insects enter a wound, the child be killed with a few drops of chloroform, and the wound treated with peroxide to kill the pus, and then syringed out with an antiseptic solution every day or so until healing takes place.

If dethorning is done soon after a clear winter, there is in the spring, a just after the first frost in autumn there is no little danger from flies and all other conditions are most favorable for rapid recovery.

Flies are almost certain to get in in mid-summer, and if the work is done in very cold windy weather, there is danger of serious inflammation which may prove fatal.

At the age of two or three weeks dethorning is a very slight and almost painless operation. The method consists in slightly moistening the horn with water and then rubbing round and round with a stick of caustic potash or caustic soda until the skin is noticed to swell a little. The stick should be wrapped in paper to protect the fingers. Common concentrated lye will do the work if applied with a very short and stubby stick toothbrush.

CHRISTIAN SCHOOL WORK IN CHINA

'Five Schools in Our District,' says Rev. Wade D. Bostick, "are run on an Appropriation of $117.

Some of the difficulties of mission school work in China are, probably, described by Rev. Wade D. Bostick, who is working in Pao Ching under the Southern Baptist Convention. Speaking of one of the school buildings in which they are now teaching Mr. Bostick says:

"It is on the street and as there would be disturbances so that a school committee advised that the front door be closed up with brick when I put a small window in the end of it to prevent the only light they have is from that and a door. They suggested that I have it plastered to make the room more cheerful and nice, the plaster only of mud. I am several days at it and it was all gone in one day. I asked when they wanted to move in and they said 'at once.' I asked if they were not afraid of the dampness and they said no."

"I am sure some would say, 'give them better quarters.' And if you would say so to me, I would tell you that I should be glad to do better for them, but let me tell you, that we have for these five schools, including teachers and everything that we are to do for them an appropriation for this year of $117. So I am quite sure you think about now and ask how it is that we can run them in any way for that amount. Well, I am glad to tell you that at each place the natives are bearing a part of the expenses, including the teacher."

Two-thirds of the human race, as a nation people, are neither read nor write. In Pao Ching the man in ten can read, while in some only one man in ten can read. In Pao Ching the man in ten can read, while in some only one man in ten can read. In Pao Ching the man in ten can read, while in some only one man in ten can read.

thirty-three languages and dialects, of which six hundred have not been reduced to written form; and on the South Continent alone there are eighty million people that have not even an alphabet.

The China Inland Mission found 1913 to be a record year for baptisms, 11,422, an increase of 1,506 over the previous year, and notes that 1914 was far in advance of 1913. In Pao Ching the figures show a general increase of nearly twenty-five per cent in the membership membership of the Methodist Episcopal church—Harrow.

If the Protestant church members of America gave an average of only four cents a week to foreign missions, it would mean an income of nearly fifty million dollars a year for the work.

The gift of one day's income from each member has added a quarter of a million dollars to the foreign mission fund of the Protestant Episcopal church this year, enabling it to pay off its debt and avoid a fresh deficit.

Rev. T. Kawakatsu, the oldest ordained Baptist preacher in Japan died June 10th, 1915, at Kaminota, where he was pastor, at sixty-six years of age. A good conversational minister of Jesus Christ has gone to his reward. He helped for Nathan Brown translate the New Testament into Japanese.

The Southern Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions sent out recently nine new missionaries to Africa.

WORK FOR ALL.
There's never a rose in all the world
But makes some green spray sweeter;
There's never a wind in all the sky
But makes some bird-wing flutter;
There's never a star but brings to heaven
Some silver radiance tender;
And never a rowy cloud but helps
To crown the sunset splendor;
No robin but may thrill some heart,
His drawn-like gladness voicing.
God gives us all some small sweet way
To set the world rejoicing.

Interesting Facts Concerning Women—

Washington.—Mrs. Rebecca Lane Prince, president of the National Association of Army Nurses, who will arrive here today as guest of honor of Grand Army encampment, is regarded as one of the vigorous women of Grand Army circles, and one of the most beloved. Her home is at Lancaster, Pa. She is a member of the famous Pennypacker family of Pennsylvania of which 150 members served in the civil war, three of them being enlisted women nurses. Mrs. Prince's career as a nurse was a notable one and for her acts of mercy, she today receives a pension by special act of congress.

Chicago.—The first woman candidate for vice president of the United States is Mrs. Kathryn Rutherford of Chicago. The platform on which she seeks the Republican nomination is this: that a little more humanitarianism and a little less politics is needed at Washington. Mrs. Rutherford is not a sensationist. She has reached the conclusion that the young girls of America need a friend at the White House. She believes there is something the matter with the American home. It is this—that girls are not getting married. If elected, she says she will use her influence to establish community hotels for young girls in every city in the country. Cozy parlors will be on every floor, furnishing opportunity for romance. Her aim is to bring young men and young women together under the most agreeable of circumstances. The "spooner plunk" in the Rutherford platform has made a big hit with the women voters.

New York.—The vocations pursued by women today will be discussed by fifty prominent women in a series of lectures which begin soon in the school of commerce of New York University. Among the speakers will be Miss Lillian Wald, a settlement worker, Mrs. Katherine B. Davis, commissioner of corrections, Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Gilman, Dr. S. Josephine Baker, director of child hygiene, department of health, Mrs. Lucinda Prince of Boston, Miss Dorothy Dix, Lady Duff Gordon, and Marie Little, manager of saleswomen of a large department store. Everything from the saleswoman to the stage, from the farm to the professions will be taken up, in which women are making headway.

MEDICAL JOURNAL

Advises Doctors to Prescribe Vinol and gives Reasons Why.

"Doctor: You have many patients under your care at this season of the year, especially, whom you may consider are in need of the nutritious, healing properties of cod liver but many people cannot digest or assimilate the ordinary cod liver oil preparations on account of their digestive disturbances.

It is for this reason we want to respectfully call your attention to Vinol—a cod liver preparation containing Cod Liver Peptone made from fresh cod livers and cod liver oil, (all oil eliminated), together with Iron Peptone, Beef Peptone, Iron and Ammonium Citrate and pure Native Wine.

Vinol is non-secret and in our opinion, superior to old-fashioned cod-liver oil and emulsions, because while it contains all the medicinal value they do, unlike them Vinol is deliciously palatable and agreeable to the weakest stomach.

We feel that medical practitioners who once prescribe Vinol will do so continuously, as under its treatment patients gain strength and put on flesh almost from the start."—From the Canadian Journal of Medicine and Surgery.

Vinol is for sale in Dothan by N. H. McCallum.

GROSS CORRUPTION CHARGED IN ELECTION

Pineville, Ky., Oct. 10.—Unprecedented corruption is declared to have marked the primary election August 7 last by —the Pike county grand jury, which reported, but no indictments were returned. Four members of the grand jury refused to vote indictments and Judge Robertson vigorously denounced them, declaring they had violated their plain duty and oaths as grand jurors.

The jury in its report, said that in the Coeburn precinct newspapers were found instead of ballots when the boxes were opened. Glaring irregularities are declared to have been committed by both democrats and republicans, and the grand jury found that whiskey was passed around openly not only among the voters but election officers.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Back-achy or Have Bladder Trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment—the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.
